LET YOUR ADVENTURE STYLE PICK YOUR NEXT READ!

Someone says, "RUN!" You...

- Look to see who you're running from!
  - Who is it?
    - Wizards!
      - You're in the wrong section. Flip forward to fantasy.
    - It's the villain!
      - What makes a great villain?
        - A vendetta held against someone
          - RUN!
            - What's more exciting?
              - Racing to save someone's life
                - Fantastic!
                - A whole secret villainous organization backing them
              - Searching for a lost artifact
                - Do you like puzzles and cracking codes?
                - How do you feel about time travel?
                - A little is cool but let's focus on adventure!
        - A dastardly evil plan
          - Who is best equipped to stop an evil villain?
            - Probably the Army or some other organized authority?
              - A group of smart and brave kids, of course
                - Is any adult guidance helpful?
                - The kids can handle it.
                - Which is more essential?
                - Too much trouble
                - That sounds boring. Pick again.
            - Are wild animals scarier than people?
              - Yes
                - Yes
                - No
              - Nope.
                - What are your thoughts on snakes?
                - I guess.
                - A phone/camera
                - Getaway bike
                - Explosions, yay or nay?
                - Nay
                - Wait, really?
                - Just kidding!
                - Cool!
                - Yay
