Introduction

“A wonderfully atmospheric thriller of secrets, lies and betrayals . . . a heart-stopping rollercoaster of a read.” —B.A. Paris, author of Behind Closed Doors

FOUR FRIENDS. A LUXURY RETREAT. IT’S GOING TO BE MURDER.

It’s been years since Grace, Felicity, Alice, and Hannah were together. The “Wild Girls,” as they were once called, are no longer so wild. Alice is a teacher. Hannah has a new baby. Grace is a homebody. Only Felicity seems to have retained her former spark. Then Felicity invites them all on the weekend of a lifetime—a birthday bash in Botswana. It will be a chance to have fun and rekindle their once bomb-proof friendship... and finally put that one horrible night, all those years ago, behind them for good.

But soon after arriving at the luxury safari lodge, a feeling of unease settles over them. There’s no sign of the party that was promised. There’s no phone signal. They are on their own... and things start to go very, very wrong.

A fresh approach to the classic locked-room mystery, The Wild Girls is sure to appeal to fans of Ruth Ware and Lucy Foley.

Questions for Discussion

(Warning: These questions contain spoilers for the book!)

1. Who is your favorite character in the book? Who is your least favorite?
 2. Which of the four women do you sympathize with most: Hannah, Alice, Grace, or Felicity?
 3. Hannah, Alice, Grace, and Felicity are very close, and they care deeply about one another, but they also had a falling out and have their own secrets and judgments about one another. What do you think this says about female friendship?
 4. How does the Botswana setting add to the impact of the story?
 5. Have you ever been to a reunion or on a trip with friends you hadn't seen in years? Would you or would you not recommend it and why?
 6. Why do you think the friends find Nathan so compelling?
 7. Which character do you think is the most to blame?
 8. Did the novel end the way you expected it to? Why or why not?
